Preface

The job of the Central Bureau of Statistics is to keep the Government and the community as a whole informed about trends and changes in our country and to do so, gathers statistical data on a regular basis and conducts surveys to gain insight into specific characteristics of our society. To be able to study changes in the structure of enterprises, each year administrative data is gathered from the tax authorities and supplemented by data received from the Social Security Bank.

This project is coordinated by Mr. J.A. Hernandez, B.Sc and is conducted in April and May of each year. The current report presents the results of this research and gives a description of the characteristics of the companies and the working population.

The Central Bureau of Statistics hopes that this publication will provide all the users with the necessary information. For comments and further information, feel free to contact us.

Introduction

The publication Enterprises in Aruba aims to give an indication on how the businesses in the private and public sector in Aruba have developed during the last 5 years. More specifically, it provides Aruban policy makers and the community at large with information about the business structure in Aruba. Information on topics such as the geographical distribution of companies, number of active companies, number of full-time equivalent jobs and median wages & salaries can be found in this publication.

This publication covers only enterprises that have employees on their payroll. One-man businesses and corporations without employees as well as private households with employed persons are excluded from this publication. This inquiry contains companies of all business sectors. Data is collected from all companies regardless of their size, their geographical location, their line of products sold or services rendered. Only units that can be considered and identified as producing, distributing or servicing units are taken into account.

This publication is divided into four chapters. In Chapter 1 the purpose and the methods used for carrying out this publication is explained. This includes the set up, concepts and definitions used. What kind of information such a research produces and how the gathered data can be utilized by the CBS, the local business community and the Government at their own convenience are also described here.

The most important findings are summarized in chapter 2 and 3. A quick view of some of the results can be seen in these two chapters. An overview of some interesting economic indicators can be found in chapter 2, like the fastest growing and best paying economic sectors, the distribution of wages and salaries, employment rate, the ageing of the working population and the saturation of areas/regions. Chapter 3 elaborates on the most important findings concerning the development of the business sectors over the past five years and of 2008 in particular.

With active companies during 2008 being the focal point of this publication, an elaborate picture of this topic is laid out in this publication. All the relevant tables concerning 2008 are presented in the first section of chapter 4. In the second section all the relevant tables concerning companies during the period from 2003 to 2008 are presented. All information concerning geographical distribution, economic sector, period of establishment, size, number of full-time equivalent jobs, median wages and salaries, activities related to Tourism and type of business is shown in this chapter.

There are 6 appendices. In appendix 1, 2 and 3 the Industrial Standard Classification of all economic activities is shown. The ISIC is intended to be a standard classification of productive economic activities. Therefore, the derived purpose of the ISIC is to present this set of activity categories in such a way that entities can be classified according to the economic activity they carry out. Defining the categories of the ISIC is as much as possible linked with the way the economic process is organized in units and the way in which this process is described in economic statistics. In appendix 4 an overview of the Geographical Address Classification is presented. This classification is used to classify all addresses in Aruba. For calculating the density of establishments and working population, the table in appendix 5 was used. Appendix 6 gives an indication of how companies were spread in Aruba by zones in 2008.

1 Purpose and methodology

1.1. Purpose

Enterprises in Aruba provides information about the structure of businesses and their economic activities. It also gives a clear view of all economical activities in Aruba. These activities consist of the production of goods and services by companies, institutions, organizations and independent professionals.

The business community is subject to continuous changes: new companies establishing, discontinuing of companies, jobs disappearing or new ones being created, etc. It is essential that data is constantly updated. Indicating changes in the structure of the business community is very important for making socioeconomic policies.

By gathering data of all companies in Aruba, the Business Register at the CBS can be updated. The Business Register is already being updated on a regular basis with data handed out by other bodies. The Chamber of Commerce and the Social Security Bank are the most important distributors of this kind of information. These institutions keep their own business registers. Virtually all new companies must register at these institutions.

By using up to date, reliable and comprehensive data about the business structure it is possible for the government to gain control of the macroeconomic developments. This information could be used, if it is thought to be necessary, to implement coherent macroeconomic policies for a balanced growth of the private sector.

The Business Register can be used as a framework for drawing surveys. The National Accounts department of the CBS frequently uses this register to conduct some of their researches.

1.2 Methodology

1.2.1. Scope of the research

The target of Enterprises in Aruba is to enumerate all economically active companies in Aruba, which have employees on their payroll. One-man businesses and corporations without employees as well as private households with employed persons are excluded from this definition.

The data used in this research consist of annually compiled data from the tax authorities and data received from the Social Security Bank. All companies are classified, at four-digit level, according to the Aruban Standard Industrial Classification of all economic activities, version 2.

Companies are classified according to the Geographical Address Classification (GAC). The GAC is meant to classify all companies according to their location into the 8 different regions of Aruba.

Companies are also classified into size classes according to their number of full-time equivalent jobs.

1.2.2. Concepts and definitions

In order to avoid any misunderstandings regarding definitions used in this research, we have listed the most used business-related definitions.

Company

The number of companies covers all organizations with employees on their payroll. One-man businesses with no employees, private households with employed persons and corporations without any employees are excluded from this definition.

Large company

Companies with 50 or more full-time equivalent jobs are considered in this publication to be large companies.

Small & Medium company

Companies with less than 50 full-time equivalent jobs are considered in this publication to fall into the category of small and medium companies.

Entries

A company is defined as an entry if it was not found in the database the year before. An entry is not necessarily a new business.

Exits

An exit is recorded when a firm which existed in the year before does not appear anymore in the database the following year. The firm may have closed down, merged with another firm in the same industry, moved into another industry or may have changed its legal form of organization. An exit does not always imply a bankruptcy.

New / lost

Change, in full-time equivalent jobs or wages & salaries, caused by new companies (entries) or companies that ceased to exist (exits) in the period under consideration.

Expansion

Change, in full-time equivalent jobs or wages & salaries, caused by companies that were present at the beginning and in the end of the period under consideration.

Volatility

The volatility measure shows those industries/regions that are undergoing the most change. Volatility is calculated by summing up the new established companies and the companies that ceased to exist in the period under consideration, as a percentage of the number of companies that were present at the beginning of the period.

Exit / Entry rate

Volatility does not indicate if the change was caused by the creation of new companies or by the closure of old companies. For this information, entry and exit rates must be used. These rates represent the number of new companies and the number of companies that discontinued their activities in the period, as a percentage of the number of companies that were present at the beginning of the period.

Size-class

Companies are broken down into size-classes, offering possibilities for analysis in the areas of small and medium-sized companies at a disaggregated level of the economy. The size-class is determined by the number of full-time equivalent jobs.

Saturation

Saturation or saturated generally means "thoroughly full", while unsaturated means less than full. It is strictly a ratio and does not reflect the actual number of companies present in a region or area. These figures will give an indication of how saturated certain regions or areas are compared to each other. Four variables (number of companies, size class, inhabitants and the size of the region or area in km²) were used to calculate the saturation figures. First, companies were weighted according to their size class. The weighted number of companies is multiplied by 1000 and then divided by the number of inhabitants. The outcome is divided by the size of the region or area (in km²). The result of this calculation indicates the ratio of how many companies can be found per 1000 inhabitants in a region or area of 1 km². Thus, the higher this number is, the higher the saturation is in the region or area.

Full-time equivalent jobs (F.t.e.'s)

Full-time equivalent jobs measures total days worked divided by average annual days worked in full-time jobs. The total days worked are estimated. The total actual days worked are divided by an average annual days worked in full-time jobs to arrive at the full-time equivalent jobs.

Employment rate (based on F.t.e.'s)

The employment rate – also called the employment-to-population ratio – is the percentage of the population between 15 and 64 years old who are employed.

Wages & salaries

Wages & salaries is defined as the total remuneration, in cash or kind, payable by an enterprise to an employee in return for work done by the latter during the accounting period. This includes basic wages, premium pay for overtime and shift work and bonuses. It also comprises remuneration for time not worked such as annual leave, vacation, public holidays and other time off with pay. It does not include any taxes payable by the employee or employer. All data on wages and salaries are presented in Aruban florins.

Median wages & salaries

Median represents the value of the midpoint variable when data are arranged in ascending order. The median wages and salaries are used instead of the more common average because outlying values have strong influences on averages and tend to give a biased presentation of the reality.

Percentile

A percentile is the value of a variable below which a certain percent of observations falls. So the 25th percentile is the value below which 25 percent of the observations may be found. The 25th percentile is also known as the first quartile, the 50th percentile as the median.

ISIC-Aruba, Aruban Standard Industrial Classification of all economic activities

By pointing out all businesses by their economic activities, a better understanding is obtained of the importance of the various economic sectors. The term economic activity refers to the collection of actions, which characterize the production of one kind or group of various kinds of goods and/or services of a company or establishment.

Each economic activity has its own classification code. The classification system ISIC-Aruba (Aruban Standard Industrial Classification of all economic activities, version 2) was used for the classification of economic activities in Aruba.

In some establishments or in companies that have various branches, different economic activities can be taking place. In such cases the main activity of the company is determined. The main activity always refers to the primary activity. Most of the time this is also the activity the majority of employees are engaged in.

The ISIC system uses a 4-digit code¹ to classify the economic activities of businesses and other economically active organizations in a country. The hierarchy in the classifications of the branch of industry is made up of divisions² (2-digit codes), major groups (3-digit codes) and groups (4-digit codes). For analytical purposes, the divisions are grouped in 17 tabulation categories³ (economic sectors). Each of the categories is indicated by a letter. In this report we will mainly use these tabulation categories.

ISIC-Aruba tabulation categories are as follows:

- A - Agriculture, hunting and forestry
- B - Fishing
- C - Mining and quarrying
- D - Manufacturing
- E - Electricity, gas and water supply
- F - Construction
- G - Wholesale and retail trade; repair of motor vehicles and motorcycles and personal and household goods
- H - Hotels and restaurants
- I - Transport, storage and communications
- J - Financial intermediation
- K - Real estate, renting and business activities
- L - Public administration and defense; compulsory social security
- M - Education
- N - Health and social work
- O - Other community, social and personal services

Economic activities related to Tourism

The economic analysis of tourism requires the identification of the consumption of goods and services that visitors acquire and therefore the identification of the economic units that produce those goods and services. The productive activity that produces a principal output which is identified as a characteristic of tourism is called a characteristic activity. For international comparability purposes a list of tourism characteristic activities⁴ has been determined at an aggregate level. Productive activities that produce output which is identified as connected to tourism are called connected activities (UN et al, 2001).

Legal forms

There are several legal forms of businesses, also called legal forms. The following presents the definitions of the legal forms used in this publication:

- Association: An administrative body founded through the association of a group of people (members) with the intention to promote non-commercial goals, is constituted of an executive board and based on statutes.
- Co-operative association: A business form that has the advancement of the material interests of its members as its main purpose.
- Foreign formed corporation: These are legal forms of business from other countries for example S.A. from Venezuela, Ltd. from U.S.A., S.P.A. /S.R.L. from Italy and Plc. from the United Kingdom.

⁴ Refer to annex III for the specification of the economic activities related to Tourism

- Foundation: An administrative body founded through a notary act and with no membership that intends to accomplish the objectives stated in the statutes by means of using the allocated capital.
- Limited company / Incorporated company (NV): Legal form of business whose possessions are in hands of the shareholders, where each one has invested a certain amount in the business capital. The owners (the shareholders) are not legally responsible for the conducted policy and thereof arising obligations.
- Limited Partnership (with one or more managing partners): Form of partnership between one or more managing partners, who bear whole legal responsibility, and one or more capital providing partners (commandite partners). The legal responsibility of the commandite partner(s) is partial (according the size of his financial participation). The position of the managing partners is comparable with that of the members of a Partnership.
- One-man business: One person is owner of all the possessions of the company and is responsible for all debt with his whole private capital.
- Partnership: Form of business consisting of two or more persons practicing the same profession. They bring capital, material and/or labor into a common association. A partnership does not have a profit motive.
- Partnership firm (V.O.F.): Cooperation between two or more persons, who act as owners of a company and who have profit as their main purpose. At least one partner is legally responsible for the conducted policy and the thereof arising obligations.
- Other: this covers the remaining legal forms, such as private corporations (B.V.), Aruban exempted corporations (A.V.V.) and some Government entities.

3 Summary

Enterprises of Aruba, 2003-2008 covers all relevant characteristics of active businesses in Aruba over the mentioned period and 2008 in particular. An overview of the most important findings concerning the business characteristics such as Economic sector, Full-time equivalent jobs, Wages & salaries and Economic activities related to Tourism will follow.

1. Companies in review, 2008

Economic sector

The total number of companies in Aruba increased from 3,096 in 2007 to 3,143 companies in 2008. The Hotels & restaurant sector and the Real estate, renting and business activities are the sectors responsible for this increase with an absolute growth of 21 and 23 companies respectively.

Of the companies active in 2008, 44% were established after 2000. More than half (65%) of the companies in 2008 were established after 1995. Less than 10% (9.4%) of the companies established before 1985 were still active in the year under review. These consist for the greater part of companies in the Services sector, specifically in the Wholesale and retail trade (34%) and the Real estate, renting and business activities (15%) sectors.

Looking at the type of business of the companies in 2008, we see that the majority of the companies were Limited companies (70%) and One-man businesses (22%).

In 2008, 79% of the companies had less than 10 employees (on a full-time equivalent basis). The companies with less than one employee were for the greater part in the Wholesale and Retail Trade sector, and specifically Clothing boutiques (19) and Souvenirs shops (18). On the other hand, only 1% of all companies had more than 150 employees and consists for the greater part of Hotels and Resorts.

The majority of the companies are located in the regions Oranjestad East (889: 28%), Oranjestad West (874: 28%) and Noord/Tanki Leendert (591: 19%). The most densely populated region in terms of companies was Oranjestad West with 91 companies per km², followed by Oranjestad East with 71 companies per km².

The most popular businesses in Noord/Tanki Leendert are Construction companies and Full service restaurants. In Oranjestad, it is the Retail sale of clothing and Construction companies which dominate. The majority of the Medical and dental practices are situated in Oranjestad West.

The most popular areas are Eagle/Paardenbaai, Caya G.F. (Betico) Croes, Palm Beach/Malmok and Dakota/Potrero with respectively 16%, 10%, 7% and 5% of the total business population on the island. In the Palm Beach/Malmok area is the Hotels and Restaurants sector that dominates and in the other three areas it is the Wholesale and retail trade sector.

The Hotels and restaurants are for the greater part located in Palm Beach/Malmok (20%), Eagle/Paardenbaai (18%) and Caya G.F. (Betico) Croes (12%).

In 2008 there were 2,963 small and medium-sized companies and 180 large companies (with 50 or more full time equivalent jobs). The total number of full-time equivalent jobs in large companies was 27,531 and respectively 17,455 in small and medium-sized companies. The large companies are mainly in the Hotels and restaurants (40), Wholesale and retail trade (32) and Real estate,

Renting and business activities (27) sectors. The majority of the large companies are Limited companies (82%) and Foundations (6%), whereas most of the small and medium-sized companies have Limited company (N.V.) (69%) and One-man business (23%) as their legal form.

Full-time equivalent jobs

The total number of employees (based on full-time equivalent jobs) increased from 43,021 in 2007 to 44,986 in 2008. This implies an increase of 4.6%. In 2008 2071 jobs were created and 1024 jobs were lost. The Hotels and Restaurants sector experienced the biggest increase in full-time equivalent jobs (974) in 2008. The Construction sector experienced the heaviest job loss (287) that year. The regions Oranjestad West and Noord/Tanki Leendert grew the most in terms of full-time equivalent jobs, with respectively 1147 and 401.

The Service sector consisted out of 48% male employees and 52% female employees. In the Goods sector, however, there was a bigger difference with 83% male and 17% female employees. In 2008 there were considerably more female employees working in the Health and social work, Wholesale and Retail Trade and Hotels and restaurants sectors, while there were more male employees working in the Construction and Manufacturing.

In 2008 the majority of the male working population worked in Oranjestad (60%), Noord/Tanki Leendert (17%) and San Nicolas (10%). Oranjestad and Noord/Tanki Leendert were very popular for the female working population as well, with approximately 70% and 19% of the total females working on the island. Looking at the distribution of full-time equivalent jobs into the different regions, there are some interesting results. There were more male than female employees working in all regions except for Oranjestad East where there were more female employees than male employees.

The total number of full-time equivalent jobs in 2008 was the highest in Oranjestad West, Oranjestad East and Noord/Tanki Leendert, with respectively 18,306, 10,667 and 8,103 full-time equivalent jobs. The most densely populated regions in terms of full-time equivalent jobs were Oranjestad West with 1,947 full-time equivalent jobs per km², followed by Oranjestad East with 847 full-time equivalent jobs per km².

Wages & salaries

The total wages and salaries show a remarkable increase of 7.0% (Afl. 145.14 million). The Hotels and Restaurants, Transport, storage and communications and Manufacturing contributed for the greater part to this result. The total wages and salaries increased in from 2007 to 2008 with Afl. 145.14 million to Afl. 2.22 billion.

The Electricity, gas and water supply and the Education sectors are by far the economic sectors with the highest median wages and salaries with respectively Afl. 84,075 and Afl. 59,339. The Agriculture, hunting and forestry (Afl. 24,339) and the Wholesale and retail trade (Afl. 28,300) sectors on the other hand, had the lowest median wages and salaries in 2008.

The highest median wage per age-group is found in the group 50-59 years with a median wage of Afl. 40,531. The age-group 50 to 59 year olds, those in the Electricity, gas and water supply, Financial Intermediation and Education sectors in particular, earned the highest wages and salaries with respectively Afl. 124,111, Afl. 70,621 and Afl. 66,419 in 2008. The lowest median wage per age-group is found in the age-group 19 years of age and younger with a median wage of Afl. 27,420. In this category (19 years of age and younger) the lowest wages and salaries were of the employees working in the Electricity, gas and water supply and Financial Intermediation respectively Afl. 22,020 and Afl. 24,648.

Economic activities related to Tourism¹

Tourism has an impact on a lot of economic activities on the island. In 2008, there were 1,108 (35%) companies directly or indirectly engaged in activities involving tourists. A total of 7,428 male and 8,650 female employees were working in the Tourism sector, from which a great number (53%) belonged to the Hotels and restaurants sector.

In 2008, 42% of the female working population and 31% of the total male working population were laboring in activities related to Tourism. The greater part of these female employees were working in Hotels, Resorts (Time-share), Full service restaurants and Fast food restaurants and cafeterias. The male employees were mainly employed in Hotels, Full service restaurants, Resorts (Time-share) and Casino activities.

The Tourism sector contributed for a total of Afl. 670.53 million (30%) in wages and salaries in the year under review. The median wages and salaries of employees engaging in activities related to Tourism was approximately Afl. 7,060 lower than those of the employees engaging in activities not related to Tourism. The highest wages and salaries were savored by the employees working in the Telecommunications, Time-share and Scheduled air-transport businesses. Figures show that male employees in the Tourism sector earn more income than their female co-workers in almost all economic activities. The median income for male employees in the Tourism sector was Afl. 33,720 whereas that of the female employees was Afl. 29,092.

2. Companies in review, 2003 - 2008

Economic sector

From 2003 to 2008 the total number of companies increased with 23 companies less than 1% growth. The sectors that grew from 2003 to 2008 are the Construction, Real estate, renting and business activities and Health and social work sectors. The sectors that suffered a decrease in companies are the Wholesale and retail trade and the Hotels and restaurant sector.

In 2008 Oranjestad East was the most saturated region in Aruba with 3.16 companies per 1000 inhabitants per km². Savaneta had, on the other hand, the lowest saturation with 0.26 companies. The saturation for the island as a whole did not change in 2008 compared to 2003, it remained 0.11 companies per 1000 inhabitants per km².

Even though Van de Veen Zeppenfeldstraat did not have a lot of (weighted) companies, it was the most saturated area in 2008 with a ratio of 908.77 companies per 1000 inhabitants per km²; this is mainly caused by the small size of the area (0.1 km²). The saturation decreased from 949.59 in 2003 to 908.77 in 2008.

Most of the companies in Aruba were located in Oranjestad East (29%) and Oranjestad West (28%). The region with the least companies was San Nicolas North with 2% of all companies in the period under review.

The region Noord/Tanki leendert experienced the highest relative growth in the last five years. Paradera is the most volatile region with an entry and exit rate of respectively 17.7% and 15.1%.

The new companies (1,927) were for the greater part Limited companies (NVs) (51%) and One-man businesses (40%) and contributed with Afl. 305.75 million in wages and salaries and 8,448 full-time equivalent jobs to the Aruban economy. On the other hand, there were 1,904 companies which closed their businesses and accounted for a loss of 5,991 full-time equivalent jobs and Afl. 214.78 million in wages and salaries.

¹ Refer to annex III for the specification of the economic activities related to Tourism

Of all the companies in the period under review, approximately 80% had less than 10 employees, whilst only 5% had more than 50 employees, and are categorized as Large companies. Nevertheless, these Large companies accounted for 50% of the total full-time equivalent jobs and consisted mainly of companies in the Hotels and restaurants and the Wholesale and retail trade sectors. Most of the full-time equivalent jobs in the small & medium-sized companies were provided by companies in the Wholesale and retail trade and the Real estate, renting and business activities sectors.

Full-time equivalent jobs

The total number of employees (based on full-time equivalent jobs) grew with 11.9% to 44,986 employees in 2008. The Real estate, renting and business activities (25.1%) and the Financial Intermediation (19.3%) sectors show the highest growth in full-time equivalent jobs in 2003-2008 with an absolute growth of respectively 1,147 and 288 employees. However, the Mining and Quarrying and fishing sector were the only sector to suffer a job loss in the period under review, with 31 and 15 jobs respectively.

In 2003-2008 there were on average 23,109 male employees working on the island. These male employees were mainly working in the Hotels and restaurants (16%), Wholesale and retail trade (14%), Construction (14%) and Public Administration and defense (13%) sectors. Of the 19,236 females that were working in this period, most of them were working in the Hotels and restaurants (22%) and in the Wholesale and retail sale trade (20%) sectors.

In all off the age-group categories there were increases in year 2008 in comparison with year 2003. The biggest increases are found in the age group 50 to 60-year olds with 1,904 more employees in 2008 than in 2003 and in the age group 40 to 49 years old with a growth of 1,469 more employees in 2008 than in 2003.

Wages & salaries

Just like the companies and the full time equivalent jobs the wages & salaries also grew in year 2008 in comparison to year 2003. The development of total wages and salaries show an enormous growth of 31% in this period. Except for the Fishing and Mining and Quarrying sector all economic sectors experienced significant increases in total wages and salaries. The highest growth is seen in the Services Sector and in the Hotels and Restaurant sector in particular. The growth in the Hotels and Restaurant sector is mainly caused by the increase in the full time equivalent jobs with 10% more employees in 2008 than in 2003 and an increase in wages and salaries.

The Large companies contributed more to the total wages and salaries in the period under review than the small and medium-sized companies, with on average Afl. 1,290 million (67%) against Afl. 630.5 million (33%).

The median wages and salaries increased from Afl. 30,844 in 2003 to Afl. 34,839 in 2008. This implies a positive growth of just approximately 13% in the above mentioned period. From 2003 to 2008 there hasn't been much change in the course of the median wages and salaries across the male and female employees. The male employees earn on average 20% more wages and salaries than their female colleagues. Age has a positive effect on the median wages and salaries until the employee reaches 60 years old. The age-group 50 to 59 has the highest median wages and salaries and it is also this category by which the male employees outrun the female workers the most.

Economic activities related to Tourism

In 2003-2008 there were on average 1,143 companies operating in activities related to Tourism. This represents 37% of total companies in this period. On average Tourism accounted for 14,834 full-time equivalent jobs, from which the greater part involved jobs in the following eight economic activities: Hotels (2,915), Resorts (1,849), Full service restaurants (1,773), Other retail sale in specialized stores (1,087), Fast food restaurants and cafeterias (1,056), Supermarket and mini markets (946) and Casino activities (853), Clothing and footwear (804).

Approximately 29% of total wages and salaries in the period under review was generated by activities related to Tourism, especially by the Hotels, Resorts, Full service restaurants and Other retail sale in specialized stores activities with respectively 169.49, 80.91, 69.96 and 45.15 million Aruban florins. These figures were distributed by 53% and 47% among male and female workers.

The median wages and salaries in the activities related to Tourism increased from Afl. 26,064 in 2003 to Afl. 31,020 in 2008. The median wages and salaries in activities related to Tourism are on average lower (18%) than those of the activities not related to Tourism.

The Time-share, Telecommunications, and Scheduled air transport businesses produced the highest median wages and salaries (Afl. 45,000 or more) over the last years. The lowest median wages and salaries (lower than Afl. 23,000) are gained by employees working in Other accommodation for stay-over, Fast food restaurants and cafeterias and Supermarkets and mini markets. Looking at the distribution of the wages and salaries between male and female workers, we can say that the male employees earn more than their female colleagues in almost all activities, but the most in the Telecommunications and Time-share business in which the male employees earn more than Afl. 10,000 than their female co-workers.
